I Dare You

To the Class of 1952:

Deep down in every heart is the desire to be somebody, to get somewhere. So often, though, we sit waiting for the opportunity. Opportunities do not come to those who wait. They are captured by those who attack. Unless you dare you cannot win.

Life should be a glorious adventure. The first principle to be understood if you would make of your life a glorious adventure is that there are four sides to every life. A body, a brain, a heart and a soul—these are our tools for living. To use these tools is not a task. It is a golden opportunity. Glorious living will include physical adventures, mental adventures, social adventures, and religious adventures.

Sir Wilfred Grenfell said, "Man must play, work, love and worship to get the most out of life." All four are absolutely necessary. Life cannot be complete unless all four of its sides are developed. And for a balanced life all four must be developed equally. To neglect one or to develop one side far beyond the others throws one's life out of balance and leads to a lopsided personality.

So, I dare you, Class of 1952, to make of your life a glorious adventure. I dare you to think bigger, to act bigger, to be bigger. I dare you to make for yourself a completely full life, developed physically, mentally, socially and spiritually. I dare you to fulfill the desire of your heart to be somebody, to get somewhere.

May a kind Providence sustain you always and guide your efforts toward attaining the ideal of glorious living.

PRINCIPAL EDGAR M. BYERS

Dedication

Mr. Byers, the senior class proudly dedicates the 1952 volume of the Scottie to you. Serving our schools for many years, first as teacher, then as principal, you have endeared yourself to the hearts of students.

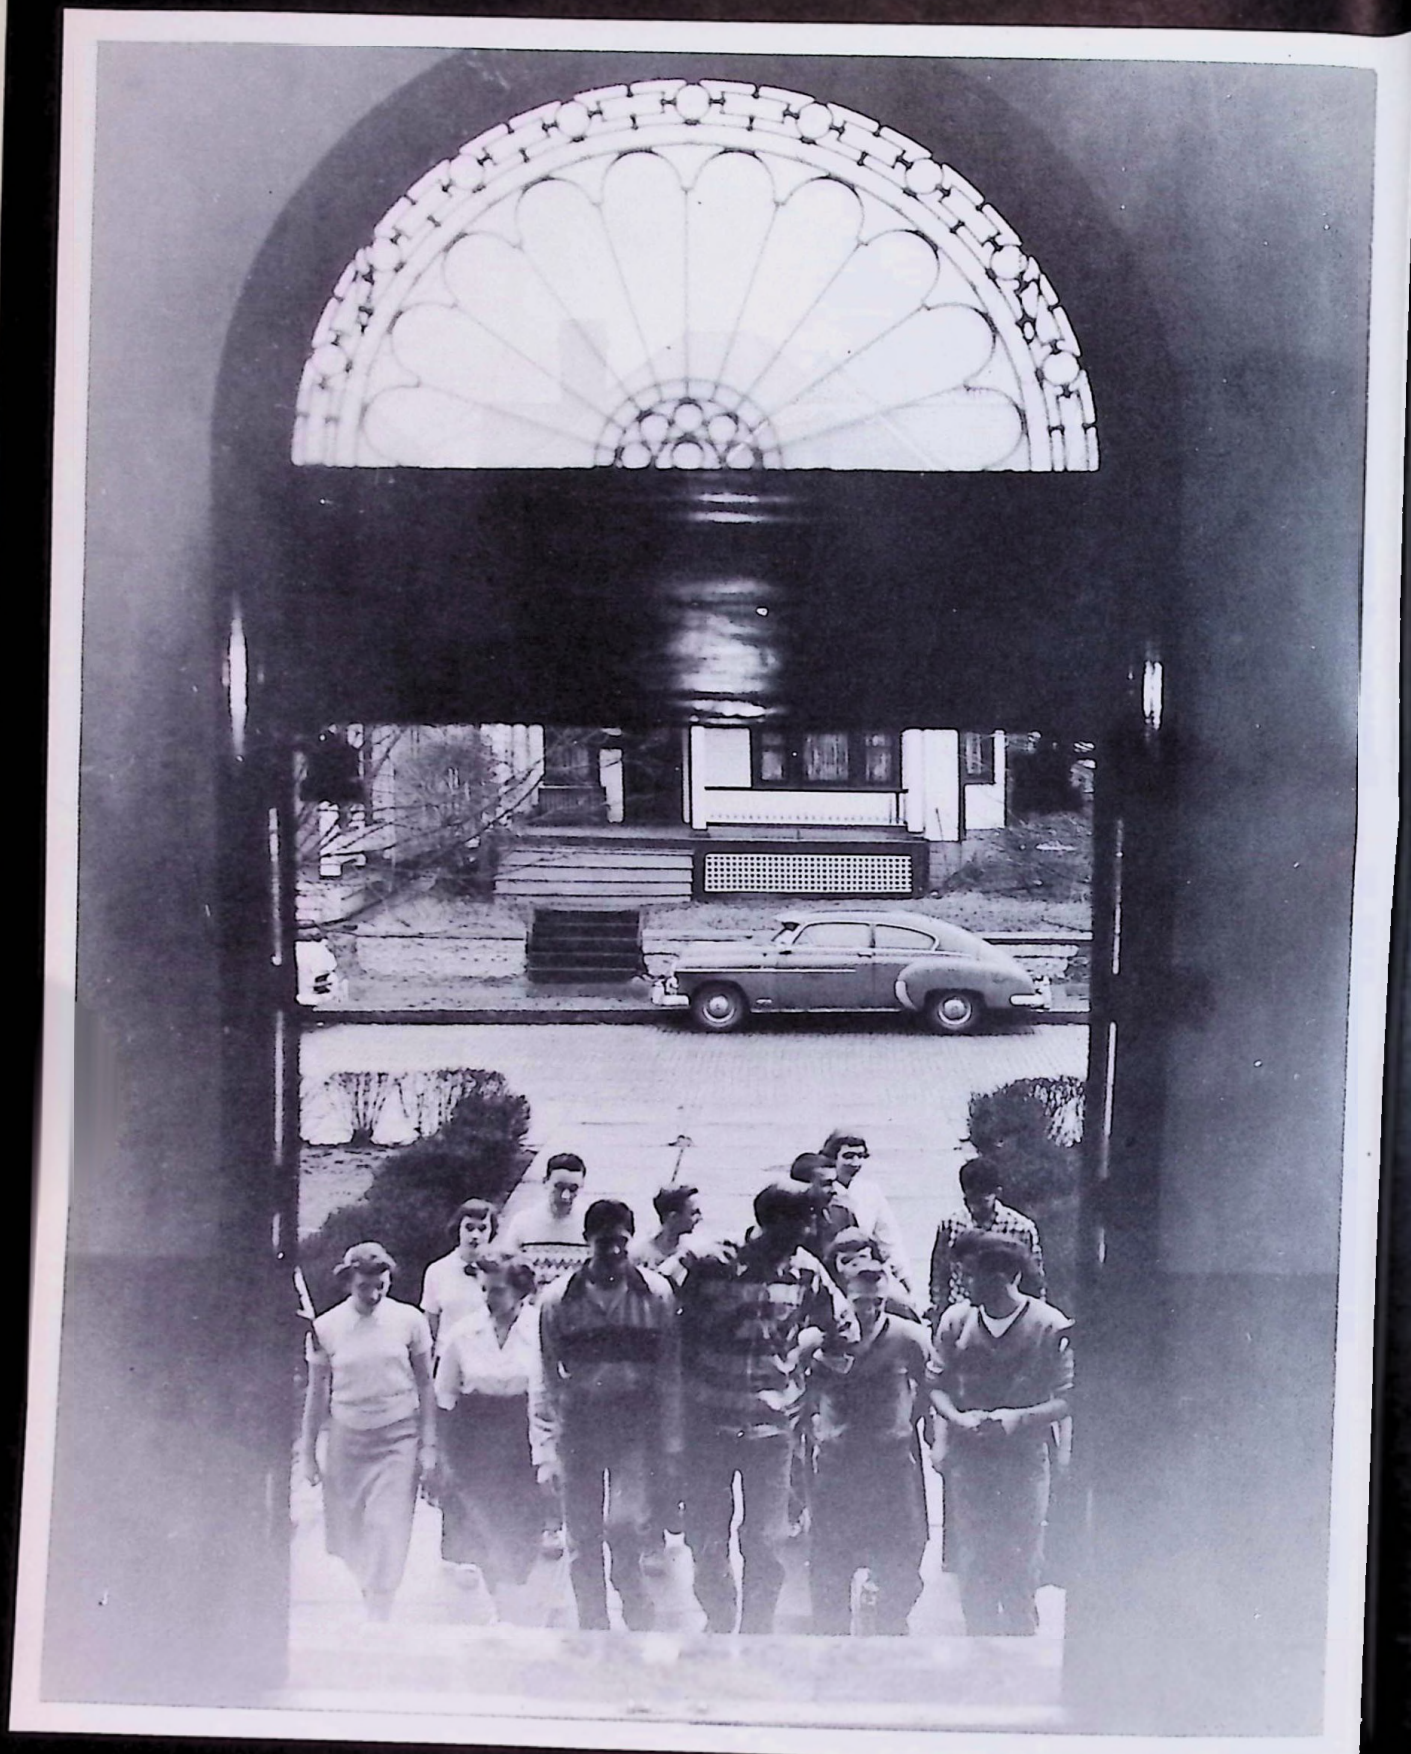

Your genial personality and good nature made a trip to the office a pleasure instead of a dreaded experience. There we came frequently with our problems. The friendly atmosphere, your pleasant smile, and your patience always helped. You had a way of finding a solution to every difficulty. You have been lenient or stern as the situation demanded, in our eyes just right.

Mr. Byers, we know how gratified you are when the graduates of S.H.S. make good. We only hope that we, too, will make you proud of us in years to come.

You who have seen so many classes come and go will be taking your final departure from our high school at the close of this school year. You as well as we, the Class of 1952, will be saying goodbye to Scottsdale High School. We are happy that we have had the chance to finish our high school course with you as principal. As you retire, may you find pleasure and contentment in whatever is in store for you beyond the next turn of the road.

When we come back to visit our Alma Mater, we shall always be reminded of your genial presence as we glance toward the office at the end of the hall. There will be a lonely space in front of the high school where the familiar black Buick stood.

Goodbye, Mr. Byers. We wish you health and happiness!

A doorway . . . an entrance of a high school . . . boys and girls . . . this picture we place first in the album of our high school days . . . three short years ago the door swung open to admit us . . . through it we passed to other doors . . . the door of education . . . the key, a sincere desire to learn . . . the door of friendship . . . being a friend, the key to that one.

This picture will always bring memories to us who have come and gone so often through the familiar portals . . . memories of helpful teachers . . . interesting classes . . . clubs, parties, dances . . . exciting games . . . of the three happiest years of our lives . . . to us this doorway is our Alma Mater . . . Scottdale High School.

Senior Class Play

Howdy, folks! 'Pears as if the Western craze hit the seniors this year. They staged a hilarious comedy by the name o' "Pistol Pete." 'Member pore ole Pop Clifton (Don Hunker) a tryin' to git away frem Barkin' Bess (Shirley Ruffcorn), the widder who was a chasin' him. Leavin' his nephew Peter Petley (Tom Schrecengost), a tenderfoot, in charge o' the ranch, Pop skeddaddled. With two six-shooters on his hip pore timid Peter became that fearless cowboy, Pistol Pete, and he put his brand on that sweet April Naylor (Bernadette Hines). Starlight (Irene Knipple) an Injun gal who read trouble in the stars, sure 'nough proved trouble for that thar bandit, Louie Rinaldo (Jack Somerfield). Shucks! Did ya ever see sich a dance as Sheriff Hannah Bixby (Shirley King) done? She sure looked plum silly. Who in tarnation would own a chartreuse convertible? Well, that's just what Gladys Tremayne (Pat Moser), one of them thar silent movie stars, and her daughter Bertine Hollis (Shirley Hodge) had stolen from them. Spinky Baldwin (Bill Barclay) and Acacia Fortman (Norma Lowstetter) were right in thar, too, a helpin' the goin's on.

Thanks to Miss Laughrey the play was very well-done. She was assisted by student directors, Lois Watson and Donna Fisher.

Junior Class Play

Hey, kids, did you read the advice given by Iris Baldwin in her column today? Who is the guy or the gal to whom she made the suggestions? Does Sandy have anything to do with the almost busted romance of Cathy and Phil? Did Kitty come between Iris and Allan? Why doesn't Iris try the "Personality Retread" treatment on Cathy whose love-life has been practically ruined by her rival Sandy? The effect of all this on Cathy causes her parents much anxiety. When Sandy attempts to steal Phil from Cathy, she is a sorely puzzled and bewildered girl. After much confusion, missing that most important telephone call, dating another when her heart pants for Phil, the one and only, and what not, Iris finally takes things in hand determined that her sister will not suffer any longer. Well, believe it or not, Cathy profits by the "Personality Retread" treatment including the use of cologne for mouth wash, and Iris learns the hard way, too. Iris and Cathy are Smarter and Smoother, and, of course, live happily ever after, having completely won their males.

As we look back on those hectic weeks of practice, we can truthfully say it was a lot of work, a lot of worry, but oh, what fun! A most sincere "Thank you" to Miss Laughrey, director, and her assistants, Beverly Brady and Maxine Lessman for a very successful production.

Gridiron Queen

This was it! The night of the annual Gridiron Queen Coronation! The game had just started and already the scoreboard read Scottsdale 2, West Newton 0. The queen and we, her attendants, watching from the typing room of the high school, followed every play with interest. Scottsdale was scoring the first points of the season.

We nervously awaited half-time, for our appearance on the field. Gifts exchanged by the queen and her attendants were opened and admired by all. Time had sneaked up on us; we seized our bouquets and hurried to the cars which took us to the field.

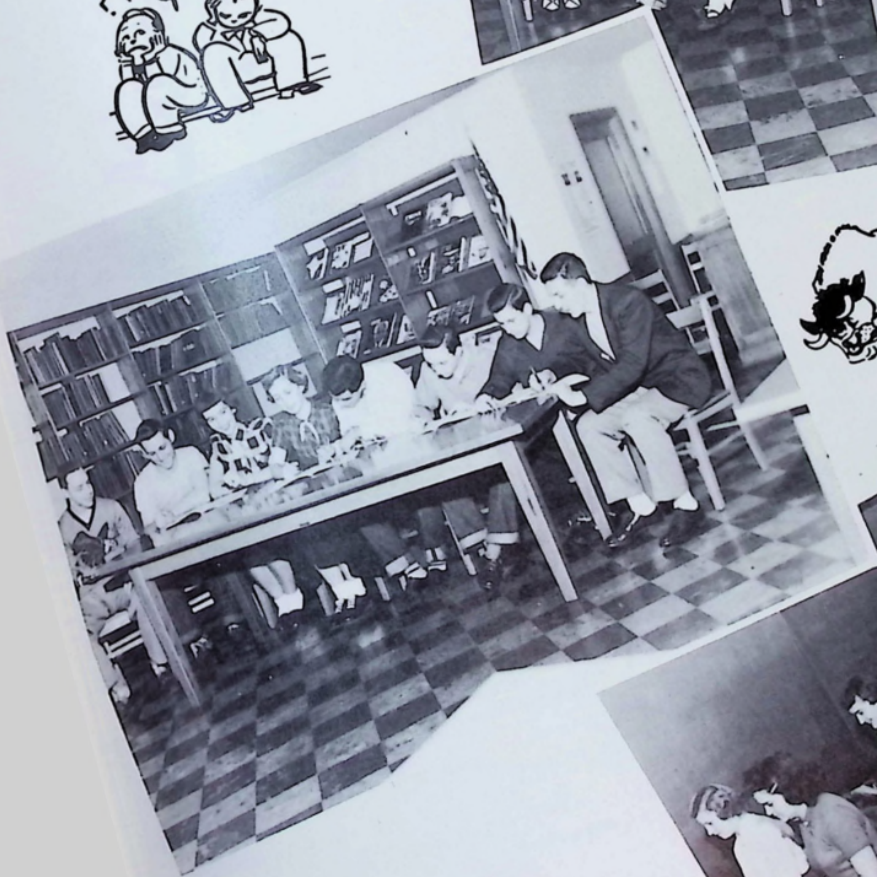

The teams had left the field; the band was beginning the formation for the crowning event. Over the queen's shoulders went the long white cape; the crown was placed on the white satin pillow which the little crown-bearer held. Everything was ready, but—where in the world were the co-captains? What if they had forgotten! What if they—Oh! here they come!

One last glimpse in the car window to see if every hair was in place—and it wasn't. We were in line, the opening strains of the triumphal march burst forth, and we started our stately, seemingly endless, processional down the long white carpet to the green pedestal where the crowning was to take place. A light breeze ruffled our fluffy gowns; we could see no farther than the floodlights. The crowds in the bleachers seemed a blur through our tear-filled eyes. We had now reached our destination and turned to watch our little white-garbed queen approaching between two nervous mud-covered boys, trying to walk slowly enough, dragging their heavy cleated shoes. The expression of overwhelming happiness on Shirley's face, as she mounted the platform, proved that the honor bestowed upon her had been rightfully placed. Shirley was kneeling and Joe taking the sparkling rhinestone crown in his hands, placed it upon her head as he said, "I crown you Queen of the Gridiron." We heard every thrilling word of it whether the crowd heard it or not. Then came the recessional; as we left the field we were both happy and sad. For this was the Gridiron Coronation, of the Class of '52, an event to be long remembered by those who witnessed it, and never forgotten by those who took part in it.

Pat Moser, Carolyn Banasick, Hart Heyward, Joe Kurzeja, co-captain, Shirley Hodge, queen, Nick DeSantis, co-captain, Joan Levendosky, Bernadette Hines.

Cheerleaders

Our cheerleaders had a busy year. Not only did they lead cheers at the football and basketball games and at our pep meetings, but they also held several dances to make money to pay for their outfits. Dressed in their royal-blue skirts and trim white blouses set off with blue neck scarves, the girls were most attractive.

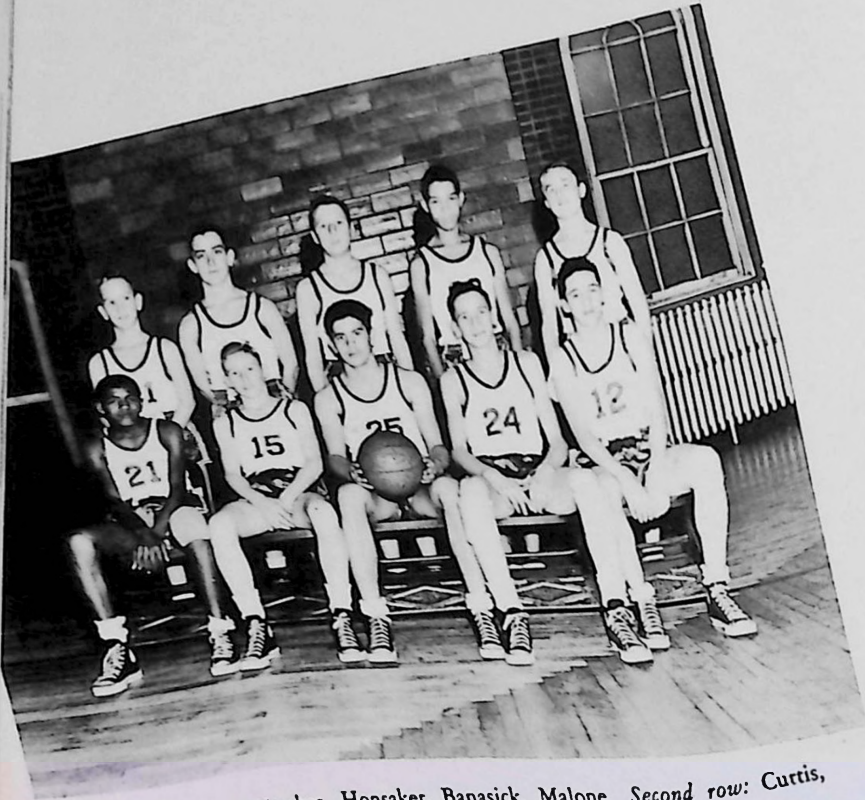

Few people realize how many hours the cheerleaders must practice. Practically every evening after school the girls could be found with their leader, Miss Wetzel, going over old cheers and learning new ones.

How about a big cheer now for the cheerleaders? They deserve it.

M. A. Zozula, S. King, J. Hough, M. L. Sanders, J. A. Pauley, C. Flemming.

Junior High Basketball

Junior Red Cross

Junior Red Cross conducted its roll call in November with seven rooms enrolling 100% and with 283 contributors in all. The amount of money received was $19.83.

Twelve baskets were made and given to patients of the Frick Memorial Hospital for Christmas. The baskets were made of Christmas cards blanket-stitched together.

The main project of the club was the filling of twenty-five boxes to send to Korea for Christmas of 1952. Two dances and a cookie sale raised $50.00 with which to buy the items for boxes. The boxes contained toys, soap, tooth brushes, wash cloths, hair ornaments, socks, paper, pencils, erasers, buttons, needles and thread.

Officers of Junior Red Cross were Grace Leonard, president; Theresa Stepanic, vice president; Maity Shirer, secretary; and Sandra King, treasurer.

SCHOOL'S OUT!

The bell has rung for the last time for us . . .
as students of Scottsdale High School . . . this picture
we place at the end of the album of our high school days . . . three years ago we passed through this entrance for the first time . . . now we leave for the last time . . . goodbye, textbooks . . . goodbye, teachers
. . . forgotten the assignments . . . the problems
. . . yes, even the good times . . . eagerly we face
the future . . .

HI, WORLD! HERE WE COME!

THE CLASS OF 1952

Class Song

Now our days of school are done,
We a victory have won,
Time has come for us to say
So long for now.
Tears welled in each classmate's eyes
Our hopes soared up to the skies,
And we hoped each one would have
His dream come true.

Leaving thoughts of school behind,
Teachers that were all so kind,
How we sit and pine
For our school days gone by
We have waited for this night;
Our diplomas are in sight,
Now our hearts feel sad and blue
We breathe a sigh.

Chorus

Dear Class of '52,
We hate to say adieu;
Our hearts will ne'er forget
School days at dear S. H. S.

(Tune: Turn Back the Hands of Time)

You are citizens of tomorrow's world. But that world is shadowed with uncertainties, fears, wars—. On what solid certainties can you build? Our nation's founders discovered in the Bible an unfailing source of inner power and peace. For you, too, happiness, security, peace will be based on inner strength which can be found only in the Word of God. Read the Bible — it is God's word for you.

WHO ARE YOUR FRIENDS?

Young folks do not always remember that they are often judged by the company they keep. The world looks upon the friends we associate with, and registers us accordingly. It is therefore important for us to choose proper friends and to be cautious about losing them by serious engagement.

This friendly thought was taken from John Wanamaker's writings and we sincerely hope it will guide you into many worthwhile friendships throughout life.
